WOMEN'S & GENDER STUDIES

Luverne Walton Scholarship

Application deadline: June 11th, 2018

The Women's & Gender Studies Department is calling for applications for the Luverne Walton Scholarship. We will award scholarships to outstanding Mizzou undergraduate students who demonstrate a commitment to the study of women's/gender issues and to gender equity.

Luverne Walton was a distinguished faculty member at MU who helped found Women Studies and advocated for improved conditions for women faculty, staff, and students on our campus. The scholarship is designed to help identify students who exemplify the special talents and commitments of Professor Walton.

Funds will be disbursed in the Fall semester of 2018. You need not be a Women's & Gender Studies major to apply, although preference may be given to WGST majors and minors. Students graduating in summer or fall 2019 are ineligible.

Applications must include:

- Cover letter that highlights the ways in which the applicant has demonstrated commitment to the study of women's/gender issues and/or to gender equity on the MU campus or the Columbia community. (Please, no more than 500 words.)
- Resume
- Name and contact information for one professional reference, which must be an MU faculty or staff member.

Applications must be submitted electronically in PDF format to Tiffany Horton, WGST's Department Administrator, hortontj@missouri.edu.
